LYNNE,

KEEP UP THE GOOD
WORK IN ALGEBRA! I'LL PROBABLY NEVER (NO MATTER
HOW HARD I TRY) FORGET
ALL THE LONG TRIPS TO THE TUTOR! IT WAS GREAT HAVING
YOU THERE THOUGH! HOPE
EVERYTHING IS THE BEST
FOR YOU! STAY GOOD

"80" LOVE,
Pooh Shuler

Dear Lynne,
Remember the hard times we gave Mr.
Meadows in 3rd grad.
It's been quite a while since then, & you're still a sweet Southern Bell! Love,
Valerie

What nice girl
and good friend.

Dynne,
I'm glad we got a class together this year. I doubt this history class will be as fun as my modgrass room.
Remember him? (how could you forget.) Good luck this year!
See ya later,
Stephanie

80!

Lynne, really been lets knowing you
nice hope that sometime
we can become better
friends in the future
Good luck this year &
Celeste, Groovy D.

Dynne,
You sirly, little debator!
I hope you win everything!
Keep J. & in line - if that is possible, & I don't mind on my shoulder. All those fun times. Keep your suit in the garage & keep hunting for the stores. Love,

Lynne,
To a really great friend, I'm really glad to have gotten to know that I've gotten in the past two years. I'll never

It is said that "the object of teaching a child is to enable him to get along without his teacher." This philosophy is successfully carried out by the teachers here at Richfield. The teachers this year not only held the students' interest, but helped each one to become better prepared for life after graduation.

As the seniors of 1977 concluded their twelve years of education in high school, they were able to look back at the good and the bad. To every senior there were precious moments. This was a class of hard-working young people who worked together for a year of great success. The class yell reflects the heart-felt truth of this senior class.

Left: The seniors actively participate in a "Be-Bop" day pep rally before the Killeen game. Right: Henri Sneed, Annette Young, Sheryl Gant, and Cathy Steward are active at a pep rally.

The seniors of 1977 have set their goal at never settling for less than their very best. Each senior hopes to be forever working toward their goal, forever challenging the problems of the world, and Forever Young in their strengths to create a better society.

Left: Willie Williams is left speechless after a lecture concerning the economy. The expression indicates that after graduating, the seniors must try and work together on getting the world's economy where it needs to be. Right: The seniors participate in a picket to pep spirit for the Waco High game.

There was seriousness and fun in the senior class of 1977. The class was led by President Kent Kaiser, Vice President Marion Johnson, Treasurer Gale Edwards, and Secretary Judy Ferguson. The counselor, Eunice Kuehl, states that it is always a pleasure to work with a class as hard working as the class of 1977. Mrs. Kuehl said that she hopes "the class of '77 will forever strive to reach their goals and that someday she will be able to see a change in the world, that will be for the betterment of all mankind."

Upper left: Student Council President Edwin King takes time from the business of the school to have a few laughs with Jeanne Dorsey and Sally Mebane. Lower left: Kenny Scherer studies for an English test. His motto is "learn what you can, while you can." Right: Seniors gather on the gym floor to sing the school song for the last time at a pep rally.

After waiting for the finality of their secondary education, the seniors are ready to face the world with probable solutions to its problems. The seniors admit that it has been long and at times difficult to cope with, but somehow it was not long enough. Most seniors feel the same way; the years were long, but if they could have just one more year, their goals could be fulfilled.

The seniors of 77 brought a new type of spirit to Richfield this year. The class met weekly during football season to boost senior spirit. Activities at these DEC meetings ranged from decorating cars to painting signs and planning skits. A group of senior boys soon became known as the 2% club, which helped to unify and strengthen the Class of 77.

The Class of 77 was a class of dedicated, hard-working individuals who worked diligently this year to complete twelve long years of school. This was a class of leaders, and each member of this very special class contributed to the success of the year. Just one example of the class' hard work is the fact that over $8500 was raised by the class during the fall magazine sale. For most, it was a year of hard work, fun, dedication, and memories. It was a year that was not soon to be forgotten by any.

The 1976-77 junior class was one which possessed high honor and self-esteem. The class was unique in that this was their last step before going into the world of leadership at Richfield. Next year's senior class is unique also because they will be the first class to graduate after spending four years at Richfield.

The Sophomores of '79 were a very united class. They worked hard to promote school spirit and were very successful. During football season, activities included working up skits, buying ribbons, and wearing the appropriate costume on dress-up day. The sophomores decorated the Colcord entrance at Christmastime. The class often won the spirit stick at pep rallies, and all year long were an important factor in keeping Richfield's spirit level high.

rhs band has great year

The 1976-77 Ram band experienced the greatest year in Ram band history. The band received standing ovations both at home football games and in the Cotton Bowl during the Parade of Champions Marching Contest in Dallas. After an exciting year of marching, the Ram band ended with a second place rating at the Parade of Champions and a superior plus rating from U.I.L. marching at Paul Tyson Field. To complete this year, the band was invited to perform at the N.F.C. Championship game had it been in Texas Stadium.

Both the Symphonic Band and the Wind Ensemble together form the Richfield High School Marching Band. On November 12, 1976, Waco Mayor J.R. Closs proclaimed the day "Richfield Band Day," urging each and every citizen to take notice of the state-ranked band. Following that official statement, another proclamation, viewed and approved by Principal John Dosher, proclaimed November 12, 1976 as

"Dennis Hopkins Day."

The school is very proud of the students who were named to the All-State Band: Richard Voyles (clarinet), Mark Brown (trombone), and Bill Sanders (trombone).

The Stage Band had another year of victories and also added a second group. The Stage Band has worked hard to make Richfield High a well-known school in Texas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

the student council promotes unity

The Richfield student council created a new flag to represent the true scene of Richfield High School, and adopted the motto "Victory through Unity." Council sponsor is Mr. Clark Flentge. The following comments were read by the council to an all school assembly when the flag was presented to the school:

"As you all know, Richfield's school colors are scarlet and grey. As we thought about these colors and about the fact that we were trying to develop a symbol of spirit and unity, we finally decided on the design for the flag.

Red is a primary or basic color. Red can never be divided into any other color. Therefore, it forms the background of our flag.

The red symbolizes that as long as there is a Richfield, there will always be a basic Richfield spirit.

Grey is not a basic color. It can be divided into black and white, or, to say it another way, grey is made by blending black and white, through true unity. They therefore symbolize a special kind of spirit which can only be achieved through true unity. A school as large as Richfield, with as many different types of students as Richfield has, can easily become divided. This we must guard against. To have a truly great school each special department or group at Richfield must support the activities of all the other departments and groups at Richfield; academically, in the field of sports, and in extra curricular activities. When this happens, and we believe this is the year it can and will happen, Richfield will regain and even surpass the original unity of spirit it once had. Thus, on our flag we have a white ray and a black ray crossing each other. Where the two meet they blend to form the color grey and extend to form a grey V symbolizing Victory through Unity.

We do not intend that this flag should replace in any way any of the past great traditions of Richfield. Instead, we proudly present it as a symbol of renewed dedication to those traditions and to an even greater future for our school. Oskee the Ram, the Spirit of Richfield High lives on!"

ramettes “could jam, yea!”

Richfield Ramettes added spirit with an element of class to the 1976-77 school year. The drill team performed at halftime at each football game during the fall. The girls also performed at several basketball games in the winter. The Ramettes' routines proved to be an added attraction at both football and basketball pep rallies.

The Ramettes competed in a contest at East Texas State University with thirty other 4-AAAA district schools in February. They received a first division in jazz and prop, and a second division in high-kick. In April the drill team provided the entertainment for the "Miss Waco" Pageant, which was aired on local television stations.

senior recognition

The Senior Recognition Assembly was held May 13, 1977 in the high school gym. Principal John Dosher presented medals and awards to honored students.

Tom Brosnan was the recipient of a $5,000.00 presidential scholarship award from Texas A & M University and also a $1,000 Dow Chemical Award.

P.T.A. Awards for scholarships were awarded to Andrea McDowell, Ty Lochridge, Rodney Freeman, and Yara Lamadrid. National Merit Finalist award was awarded to Djuan L. Toliver, and National Merit Semi-Finalist award was awarded David Post. Students receiving National Merit Scholarship Letters of Commendation were Michael Keith Braynon, Freda Levy, Dawn Nall, Mike Nolte, James Park, and Julia Spinn.

Julia Spinn also received an Opportunity Award scholarship from Texas A & M, in the amount of $2,00 for 4 years. Djuan Toliver earned the Southern Methodist University scholarship for $2,160.

Students were also recognized in area of athletics, honors, favorites, drill team, Spanish, journalism, photography, choral performance, cheerleading, Latin, typing, science, drafting, art, and for club work.

An important part of the Senior Recognition program was the presentation of the Senior Skit, which was the highlight of the day. The theme of this year's skit was "Thanks for the Memories." After weeks of planning and replanning, the skit proved to be a great success. Committee sponsors included Mr. Clark Flentge, Mrs. Barbara Thurman, Mrs. Margaret Vaughan, Mr. J.E. Masters, Mrs. Kay Allen, and Senior counselor Mrs. Eunice Kuehl. The Senior Recognition Committee was composed of more than thirty-six seniors, and the co-chairmen of the committee were Randy Crook and Dale Fisseler. Mr. Flentge sang a song of his own composition, and the senior song, "Move On" by Doug Hoffman, closed the program. For all, it was a day that will not soon be forgotten.

seniors raid cameron park

The Richfield High School Senior Picnic contained many interesting and exciting activities. The happy graduates gathered at our city's fair Cameron Park Clubhouse for a delicious bar-b-q lunch. The seniors also enjoyed many games such as hop sack races, three-legged men races, raw egg throw, frisbee, football, tug-a-war and relay races. Ribbons were given to the winning teams. Mr. Edward Knipper was the Head Coordinator of the games.

An oriental theme enhanced the Senior Prom, which was held on the night of May 21, 1977. The theme was carried out through the decorations and refreshments. Paper lanterns, dragons, an oriental garden with a waterfall along with wontons and fortune cookies set the mood of "Sayonara '77." The ring ceremony was held and prom pictures were taken under the class ring, keeping alive Richfield traditions. To many seniors, Prom night brought an awareness of the closing of their high school years.

Kiddie Day, Be-Bop Day, Halloween Day, Crazy Sock and Hat Day, and Hobo Day were just some of the events that shaped Richfield's pep rally season. Students dressed up for the particular event and brought the pep rally to life. There were skits, songs, dances, and plenty of yells at every pep rally. There were fun, crazy, and serious times, but in each and every event the student body of Richfield demonstrated tremendous spirit.

a. Gay Crosthwait; "Seniors, why did you let the freshmen win the spirit stick?" b. Bud Johnson, Randy Crook, and Anthony Wooten presented a red rose to each of the six cheerleaders. c. Susan Flowers about Mike Fadal: "After checking out this situation I'm not so sure I want to be here." g. Randy Crook: "They promised if I sang this they would give me a pair of blue suede shoes."

rams spring into action

This year there was a revival of Ram spirit at Richfield. The student body worked together to make this year a more spirited one than Richfield has seen in a long time. There was a special kind of closeness between the student body and the football team which had not been evident in past years. The drill team, band, and cheerleaders worked together to make each and every pep rally successful. The highlight of each pep rally was the spirit stick competition, where each class tried to prove that it had more spirit than any other class. At the last pep rally of the football season, the senior girls sang to express their sadness at the "parting of the ways" with the senior boys.

a. Senior girls sing to express appreciation for the football team, coaches, and faculty. b. Seniors cheer "on to victory!" c. Students show that even teddy bears can have spirit. d. # home and family living

The Home and Family Living classes are taught by Mrs. Eichelberger and Mrs. Fields. This course stresses understanding one's self, emphasizes career decisions, and helps students work on family and community relationships. During the year, students are "engaged", "wed", and then plan their budget for their first year of marriage. Speakers come to counsel on such topics as marriage, and careers. Students then work on a social unit during which time they plan parties and dinners. The course is then finished up with a unit of either Child Development or Home Furnishings.

richfield choir

The Richfield High School Choir is one of the finest in the state of Texas. The choir is under the direction of Donny Balmas. The president of the choir, Keith Branyon, has worked hard on seeing that the choir kept its proud reputation in the 76-77 school year. The choir had numerous students who went from district to finalist in the state choir competition. It's a great talent to be able to sing in harmony, and our Ram choir has proved to be not just another choir—rather the greatest in the state, in our eyes!

annual staff

The 1976-77 Annual Staff at RHS consisted of twenty members, most of whom were juniors and seniors. Some sophomores, however, earned a place on the staff. Work for staff members began in August and ended in May, with many hours devoted to layout, copy preparation and photography. Activities for staff members included selling annuals before school, during morning breaks, and at football games. The staff attended workshops on annual preparation and entered their work in competition with other schools. Five staff members were also members of Quill and Scroll, an honorary society for journalism students.

It's not ALL work and no play for the Richfield faculty, as evidenced by the fun and frolic at the Gong Party held in the library this year. After a hearty meal of bar-b-q and all the trimmings, the faculty got down to serious fun. Mistress of Ceremonies Pat Lowry requested "gong" judges Principal John Disher, Assistant Principal Ken Hutchison, and home economics teacher Mary Nell Eichelberger to take their positions at the judges table and "gong" those acts deemed inappropriate for faculty eyes. Only two acts received the gong. The Henhouse Five and Ellis was the heavy favorite. Pat Lowry received the "Flirty Filly" award, and retiring Ted Medcalf was honored with the "Dirty old Man Award. Janette Maxwell and Ted Medcalf were presented with a card chain and gifts for retirement. Ken Hutchison won the door prize—a begonia with a pink ribbon. Faculty fun and fellowship abounded with much merrymaking.

Spring elections at Richfield were exciting this year with posters and all forms of "wild" slogans. The traditions of our school lived on. Student Council, cheerleaders, and class representatives were among the many elections this year. May the thrill of running for offices be revived every year in all classes to come. Those who run for officers or cheerleaders at Richfield had to realize the challenge that was before them. They had to acquaint themselves with the benefits as well as the problems.

As the 1976-77 school year closes, there are many things that each student holds as a dear memory of Richfield High School. Things may not have always been as you wanted them to be, but all things have many times worked together for the good.

For many of you Seniors, this is the culmination of your formal education; may your school years serve you well in your chosen careers. For those who continue into college, you have a strong foundation upon which to base your future.

Now as you go your separate ways, hold the thoughts of your days spent in Richfield High School as the happiest in your life. And as you reminisce through these pages of Aries, may you recall many fond memories of a most wonderful year.

If you students are pleased by this record of your achievements and disappointments, then our labors shall be rewarded.

The Baylor Spirit

It has been called undefinable. It is pride, it is goals, it is a thrilling atmosphere in which to grow. The Baylor spirit provokes excitement and compassion which can be seen in every open, sharing face.

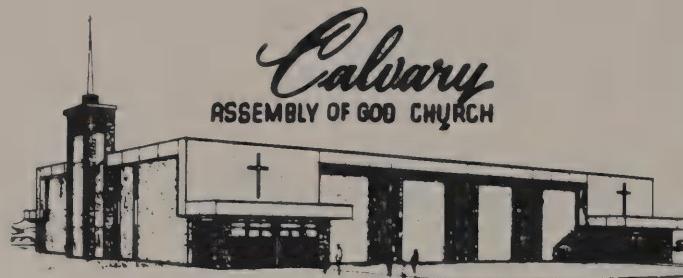

The spirit of the Green and Gold adds a capacity for self-renewal to the campus that spreads from studies to sports, to church, to alumni and community. To lead, to excel, to provide identity—that is the Baylor spirit that reaches out and touches everyone in sight. The Baylor spirit may be undefinable, but it is certainly irresistible.

To Lynne a very sweet and generous friend. You will go far someday,
but then again?
Oh well good luck this year, you'll need it.

<sup>"74"</sup> Tom DeMathy Jr <sup>"79"</sup>

Dawn, I wish ya lots of luck in the future & in school. I hope we will remain friends for a long time & have you in some of classes next year also, so we can give the teachers (you know what I mean!)
lots of luck!
Love ya,
Freddy

PS. Am I wrong about the things you said about the man
I told you about? I thought he was a good man.
I'm sorry
if I was wrong.

To Lynne,

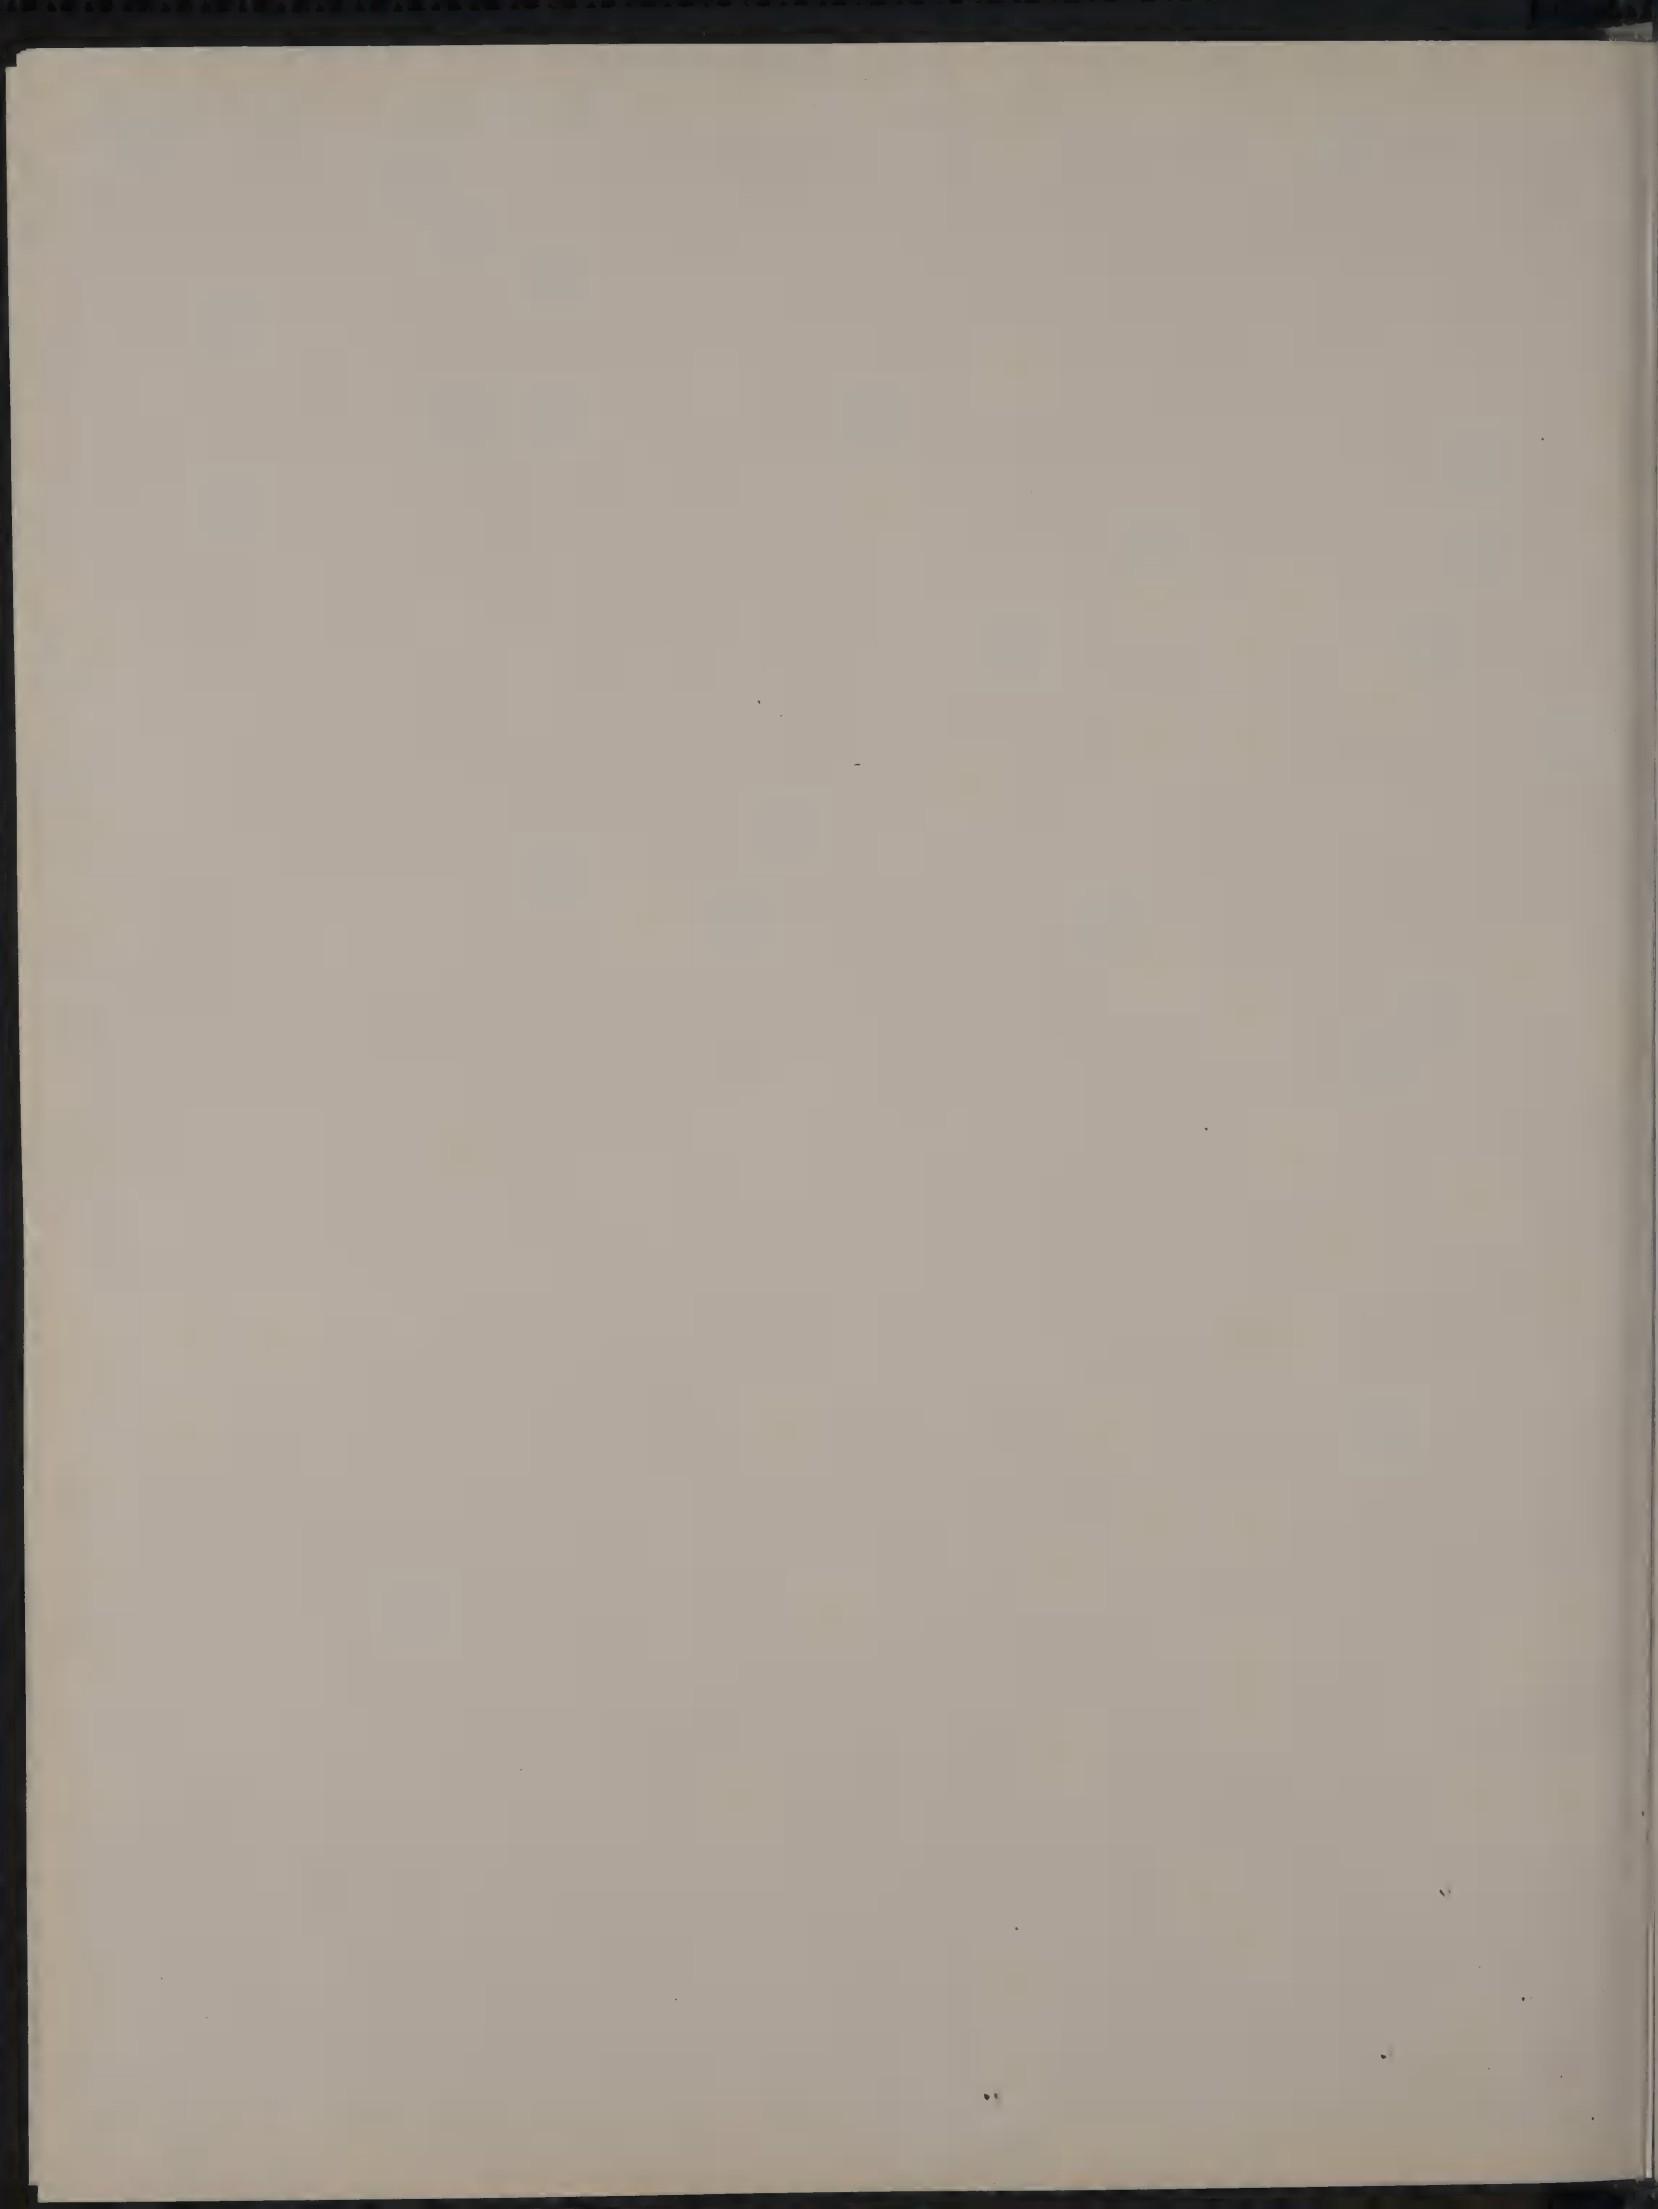

I have yet to meet anyone as frank and honest as you. I hope you stay that way always. I hope to know you for a long time in the future.

Love,

Jelicia

Lynne,
In the year
that we known
you I have come to consider you a great friend. You've come a long way baby!!! It takes a mature person to stand up for what we believe that's what you'll always feel. I'll always hope you'll always to help to speech & I can't times we had, all the tournaments conversations all the fights
those "other" things!!! Don't forget those "other" things!!! Stand back in those "other" things!!!
